Trailing Commissions

Investment funds pay investment fund managers a fee for managing their funds. The managers pay us ongoing trailing commissions for the services and advice we provide you. The amount of the trailing commission depends on the sales charge option you chose when you purchased the fund. You are not directly charged the trailing commission or the management fee. But, these fees affect you because they reduce the amount of the fund's return to you. Information about management fees and other charges to your investment funds is included in the prospectus or fund facts document for each fund.

If you are a participant in our "OnCourse" program, you have been placed into series [B] (NEI) or [J] (AGF) of the respective mutual fund. Credential earns a higher trailing commission on this series in exchange for the marketing, promotion and distribution services provided on behalf of the mutual fund manager. You are not paying higher fees associated with this series. The MER (management expense ratio) for this series is the same as the series you would have otherwise qualified for. A list of the OnCourse funds is available at www.oncourseinvestments.com.
